Through a letter from Mr. Le Journal of the Common which I answered, and the follows which I answered and the follows which I answered the witness. The same and a second property of the same person. He toulisted that is also seen to be a decision from him, which it has been for any of the same person. He toulisted that is also seen to be a decision from him, which it has been for a second of a node for the mean amount of the same person. He was the same to be a second of the same person. He was the same to the same person. He was the same person and the common and the same are considered to the same person. He was the same person and the same person. He was the same person and the same person. He was the same person.

id was in his sublime collection of the let-s testimony was ob-sel for the defence. The jother notes,"

"Mr. J. L. Ludwig the city of Richmond signification of the prisoner actions of the prisoner

KEPT THE CRECK. "What did you do with the check?" inquired Mr. Wise.
"I kept it and used it," said the witness.

"The check was paid," stated Mr. Ludwig. "The reason why I did not sign the note was because I did not see why I should be giving notes for money to Mr. Dashiell when he was due me money from my brether's estate."

"Did you sign a note when you were here on your bridal trip in 1890?" asked the coursel.

the counsel.
"I don't think I did, sir," replied Mr.
Ludwig. "I think the last note I ever signed was the one for $1,500."

TESTING HIS MEMORY. The question of testing the witness's re-collection arose, and the Justice stated that he was willing to give a week's time to the case, and ruled that the questions being given by the counsel for the defence were relevant.

"If you had given a note for the $500 in compliance with Mr. Dashiell's request it would have fallen due in January, would

"It not?"
"I think so, sir," responded the witness.
"Do you remember to have received any paid notes from Mr. Dashiell?"

SEVERE CROSS-QUESTIONING. "Mr. Ludwig, you are thirty years old; where did you go to college?"
"I last attended school at the University of New York in the year of 1884 or 1885."
"What did you do when you came out of college?"

"I became engaged in the foundry and machine business at Hickory, N. C., in 1885, I think I left Cornell University in 1885 and went to Baltimore, where I respectively of the country of the country of the control of the country of th one of the managers.

"Well, what were you?"

"I was one of the managers."

"What part did you take?"

"What part did you take?"
"I took no especial part."
"What was the name of this entertainment company?" asked Mr. Wise.
"It was the American Dime Museum, and I was secretary." stated the witness.
The Commonwealth's Attorney objected to the subjection of the witness to such ridiculous questions and the Justice ruled in his fayor.

Mr. Ludwig had taken the part of a gen-tleman; that he only wanted to test his funds.

MANY LETTERS PRODUCED.

A number of letters were produced by the counsel for the defence written by the sitness to Mr. Dashiell, and asking that he estate be wound up as quickly as posible, as he was at these times in need of onds.

"What salary were you getting from the Westinghouse Company?" queried Mr

Wise.
"Eighteen hundred dollars a year."
"Was your salary increased during June and August?"
"No, sir," promptly answered the witness. on the other notes."

"Mr. J. L. Ludwig the city of Richmond dabout the other distributed the had no recollected them."

"Did Mr. Dashiell say anything to you not the fact that you had used a check and had not returned the note which you had received and refused to sign?"

"No, sir, I remember no such conference between us," responded the witference between us," responded the witness.

If you swear out those Mr. Smith.

If and met Mr. Ludwig.
If he hunord, and by re2, I went with him to their of Pohee, in order dues him to Major Poc.
In manufaction between us," responded the witness.

"I cannot assert such, sir. I made "I cannot assert such, sir. I made the hunord and by reand Mr. Dashiell told me he could let me have about $500, which I afterward drew for by draft."

"Mand NO EXPLANATION.

"Now, then, although in June the prisoner had sent you a check and a note and you used the check and did not return the note, you made no explanation to him the witness.

"Now, Mr. Ludwig," continued Mr.
Wise, "you have been shown these four notes and have pronounced them forgeries.
Look at these papers again and say whether or not you signed them," said Mr.

ble paper."
Do you do that invariably?" inquired

"L" in placing my survey and the distinct interposed:

"Do you do that invariably?" inquired the distinct interposed:

"Do you do that invariably?" inquired the counsel.

"I always sign my checks in that way." the paper,"

"I always sign my checks in that way." the counsel.

"I always sign my checks in that way." the paper and the counsel.

"I always sign my checks in that way." the counsel.

"I always sign my checks in that way." the counsel.

"I always sign my checks in that way." the counsel.

"You don't pretend to say that that habit is invariable?"

"I cannot say that it is, sir. I cannot say that I always make a difference in sa

"Bon't you know that during 1899 when you received the money from Dashiell he had no funds from your brother's estate?"
"I know it now," replied Mr. Ludwig.
"Wasn't the whole of that money locked up in the Chancery Court?"
"That I can't tell." was the answer; "I wasn't in Richmond then. Of course I know it now."
Hereupon the Commonwealth's Attorney commenced his remarks, and before questioning the witness he said to him: "Mr. Wise has spoken of your being 'hard up,' I wish you would tell his Honor the lowest amount you had to your credit in bank during the time he refers to you as being financially pressed."

The witness said that he had $902.07 on April 30th, and this was the lowest amount.
"When you came from Chicago before you went to Pittsburg how much money did you have to your credit?" asked Mr. Smith.
"Four hundred and sixty-nine dollars.

Mr. Smith then asked: "Are these all the checks you have drawn up to the present time?" showing him a batch.

Ludwig said: "Yes."
Counsel for the defence stated that they objected to this, as they did not desire to see the papers Mr. Smith referred to.

Mr. Carter stated that only papers already in the case were subject to comparison; that they had no right to go outside and get them.

jection, but also asked that the letters written by Brown be brought in. He said that everything bearing on the case ought to come in and he was determined to have it.

this point.

"Mr. Ludwig," continued Commonwealth's Attorney Smith, "you have examined these checks and find your statements concerning the joining of the J and L in your signature is corroborated?"

"Yes, sir, I see no variation," answered the witness. he witness.
Mr. Ludwig was then told tostand aside,

"Nothing in the world," was the reply.

"I have afforded the counsel and Mr. Dashiell every facility."

Witness repeated in regard to the telegram that he thought Mr. Wise's question had reference to letters and the telegram had escaped his mind and did not come back to him until Ludwig spoke of it in his evidence. Here Justice Crutchfield said to Mr. Brown in a stern and determined tone: "When you were on the stand this morning the Court had to call your attention to the way you dodged questions put to you. Wasn't you sworn to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?" "Yes, sir, I have done so and I have not attempted to withhold anything. I have afforded the counsel for the defence and Mr. Dashiell every facility. They were at my office yesterday afternoon and I offered them the use of all my books and papers."

"Then why didn't you let me have them when I issued a subporad duces lecum for them?" asked the Justice, who appeared greatly irritated with the witness.

"Because I didn't have them then," was the reply.

A DODGED ISSUE.

"I decide that a dodged issue," exclaimed the Justice, "and I will speak to Mr. Brown about this matter later."

Commonwealth's-Attorney Smith protested against the interrogations of the Justice, saying that they had no bearing on the case; but the Justice expressed his determination to get down to the bottom of things.

The excitement at the time when the Justice censured Mr. Brown was very great, and the witness appeared much embarrassed.

"You say," questioned Mr. Carter of the witness, "that you went to Washington that night. Was Mr. John Thompson Brown in Richmond?"

"No. sir," was the answer.

"You left your office without a head?"

"Yes, sir; no one was there but the clerk."

"Idas there been a time before when clerk."

"Has there been a time before when both you and Mr. J. Thompson Brown were away from Richmond?"

"Yes. sir. Last Monday a week ago a case of this kind occurred," replied the witness. "I don't recollect any other occurrence."

"Yes, Sir. Last bounds," replied the witness. "I don't recollect any other occasion."

Mr. Brown stated that on the latter occasion he had left by the advice of his counsel, Judge George L. Christian, who is his attorney in the suit against Dashiell. Mr. John Thompson Brown was out hunting.

At this point Mr. Wise said that he desired to know what was the condition of Ludwig's estate when the accused became its administrator.

Mr. Frank McGuire, counsel in the chancery suit was, by mutual agreement of both sides, allowed to state what he knew of the litigation, and the condition of the property at that time.

His knowledge of the hitigation was devoid of any particular interest and his explanations, which were clothed in legal phraseology, hardly threw much light upon the subject.

Mr. McGuire, in response to a question as to how much of Ludwig's money passed into the hands of the accused, stated that he did not know.

CASE ARRESTED FOR THE COMMONWEALTH.

The case was arrested by Mr. Smith, the Commonwealth's Attorney, who made a nemarks of Mr. Carier.

Mr. Carter then addressed the Court in his client's defence, and said that when the Commonwealth's own evidence showed that no jury under Heaven would convict the prisoner, and failed to sustain the case, there was no "reasonable ground for suspicton," or why the case should be certified to the grand jury.

He added that Commonwealth-Attorney Smith's remarks seemed to imply that they were aiming their attacks at Ludwig, whom the former defended as if he was a man of unusual weakness—one easily impressed by persons of stronger character. For instance, Ludwig had sworn out the warrants against his old friend Dashiell without once going to see him.

The speaker gave further illustrations, showing, as he said without intended reflection, the "treachery of Ludwig's memory."

DASHIELL WROTE TOO BADLY TO FORGE.

memory."

Dashiell. Whote too bally to forge.

"No man who writes as bad a hand as Billy Dashiell can imitate as good a hand as Mr. Ludwig's." continued Mr. Carter, and here he mentioned an instance where a jury had acquitted a man for just those reasons—viz., that he wrote miserably, while the man whose name he was charged with forging was a beautiful penman.

As an instance of Ludwig's carelessness the speaker produced a letter in which the former had spelt Dashiell's name wrong, despite the fact that they were constantly corresponding. Commonwealth's Attorney Smith said Ludwig did this every time he wrote, which information Mr. Carter utilized in his speech, adding: "Then he is even more careless than I thought he was."

During the year 1850 Dashiell was in advance to Ludwig, and the proposition seems to be that Dashiel forged his name to get money to lend him—not only this, but a note payable to ms own order.

"Tsay," confinded the speaker, "there is nothing in this case, No stigma of doubt should be put on this young man, for the Commonwealth's own case shows there is nothing under Heaven in the provecution."

MR. Wise's defended.

Continuing in his remarks, which throughout were clothed in the most scathing sarcasin, imingled with a seriocomic delivery, which rendered them more effective and cutting, Captain Wise said: Thompson Brown was out hunting. Le Roy was hunting, too. I tell you he was hunting big game—hunting in a hunt which when once the human mouth has been outed with its blood is the ghasthest, most fearful hunt on God Almighty's earth.

"The next step is what?" continued the speaker. "Brown returns to Richmond. Ludwig and he breakfasted together. A breakfast, a breakfast in Richmond—Richmond, the home of Dashiell, Brown's former partner; Richmond, the home of Ludwig's boyhood triend and brother's administrator; Richmond, the home of his benefactor who had placed him in the position to hold the very place he now occupies; Richmond, the place where but for the simister things which were operating on his mind; Richmond, the place where, above sli others, he might have found the explanation he desired to have.

BUT THAT BREAKFAST.

But that breaktast—its coffee was sweetened with conspiracy; its bread was buttered with malignity; its eggs were broken in their cups with a spirit of revenge, and Ludwig never went near this man for any expianation—and Brown went with him as far as the office of the Chief of Police, and then was heard and seen no more.

Mr. Smith, arising a second time on behalf of the prosecution, stated that the Commonwealth had nothing to do with feelings of revenge or malice, which may have actuated Mr. Le Roy Brown, although he didn't consider that this gentleman had acted mainciously. Moreover, the feelings existing between Brown and Ludwig were of such intimacy as to have actuated the former's action.

"If a jury thinks Dashiell signed the notes he must take the consequences," BUT THAT BREAKFAST.

"It a jury thinks Dashiell signed the notes he must take the consequences," continued the speaker. "It is for them to decide, but if they find he did not Ludwig can take the consequences."
Referring to the mistake made by Ludwig in spelling Dashiell's name, Mr. Smith maintained that although he had always spelt it wrong, he had been as thoroughly and uniformly consistent as in his other transactions.

"You have the uncontradicted evidence that Mr. Ludwig did not sign these notes,"

"You have the uncontradicted evidence that Mr. Ludwig did not sign these notes," continued Mr. Smith. "Mr. Boudar, Mr. Joplin, and Mr. Ginter all testified that it is not the same writing. Mr. Peyton, having once passed judgment, sticks to his first opinion, while Mr. Craig has almost proven himself to be no expert at all.

proven himself to be no expert at all.

THE CASES SENT ON TO THE GRAND JURY.
The cases, after the argument of Commonwealth's Attorney Smith, was submitted to the Court and Justice Crutchfield said: Gentlemen, my powers in a case of this sort are very simple. The Commonwealth's Attorney started to tell me my duties, but I know them quite well. Where there is probably cause for suspicion I am bound to give the Commonwealth the benefit of a doubt, and therefore I send Mr. Dashiell on, the defence having shown nothing to disprove Mr. Ludwig's statement that he did not sign the notes.

when he had finished speaking Mr. Car-ter submitted a motion for bail, which Justice Crutchfield said he would grant. He added that he would reduce the bail and bond and make the amount $1,000 in

MANCHESTER THE TERMINUS.

Soon to Be Completed.

The stockholders of the Farmville and Powhatan railroad Company held their annual meeting in this city at noon yesterday. About three fourths of the stock was represented. Mayor O. T. Wicker, of Farmville, presided.

All of the old officers were re-elected. These are Joseph Hobson, of Powhatan, president; James R. Werth, vice-president and general manager; N. V. Randolph, O. T. Wicker, Franklin Stearns, W. S. Archer, and James R. Werth, directors. The Reports.

The reports of the president, general

mony."

Mr. Smith's speech was an earnest and conscientious effort, and his fight against a most eminent lawyer was an admirable one.

Mrs. Thomas P. Campbell-Two Bright

Children.

Mrs. Anna C. Campbell, wife of Mr. Thomas P. Campbell, President of the Common Council, died at the residence of her husband, 915 west Clay street, yesterday afternoon. Her disease was rapid consumption. Mrs. Campbell was about forty-five years of age and before her marriage was a Miss Whiting, sister of Mr. Thomas Whiting, at one time High Constable of the city. She was a consistent member of the Clay-Street Baptist church. She leaves five children—three daughters and two sons. The notice of finieral will appear hereafter.

TWO CHILDREN.

Two CHILDREN.

Katie Dunbar, daughter of Mr. John C.

Tatum, died yesterday morning of dubtheria and the interment was at Hollywood in the afternoon. The deceased was a bright child of thirteen years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. West have the symmethy of the entire community in the TWO CHILDREN. sympathy of the entire community in the loss yesterday of their third child, little Myrtle, from diphtheria.

EAST-END GUN CLUB.

The East-End Gun Club held their last shoot of the season 1991 yesterday afternoon. The following were the scores out of a possible twenty-five: Jasmes W. Carter, 29; C. H. Epps, 15; W. A. Dickenson, 20; J. M. Sheppard, 13; Ed. Holman, 10; Andrew Krouse, 20; John McDowell, 13; John Braner, 8; William Woodson, 12.

The tie between Messrs. Carter, Dickenson, and Krouse, resulted in favor of Mr. Carter, W. A. Dickenson won the handsome permanent medal, he having made the best score of the season, breaking two thirds of all the pigeons he shot at.

The club will hold an important business meeting at Captain C. H. Epps's office in the City Hall at 5 P. M. Friday. The East-End Gun Club held their last

MR. WISE'S DEFENCE.

Captain John S. Wise, who steered the examination for the defence, then took the floor and spoke briefly yet pointedly. In opening he said: "I confess that i must say that my whole connection with this case has been a deep distress to me. You are here, your Honor, to examine into the charges in their first stages."

The speaker then gave a slight resume of the case, dealing particularly with the merits from his point of view.

Drawing towards the close of his argument Mr. Wise spoke as follows: "This is the presentation of silaus which goulasve! One gentleman in Richmond, the other in Pittsburg: one—the one in Richmond-discovers a mare's nest. This gentleman does not speak to Mr. Dashiell, bear in mind, and yet we find him writing to Pittsburg, Fa., about Mr. Dashiell's private matters.

"Mr. Hermann Schuricht, editor of Der Sicken, was expected to deliver an address on German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on last German-day upon the life of German-day upon the life on German-day upon the life of Koerner. He has, however, declined, as he spoke on

The Soldiers'-Home Hospital Building Committee met Tuesday night at the resi-dence of Major Norman V. Randolph and examined the plans for the building. An-other meeting will be held next Tuesday night, when it is expected the contracts will be given out.

The Richmond and Danville Railroad Company through Captain W. H. Green, general manager, have offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who caused the late terrible wreck on the Western North Carolina railroad at Third creek near Statesville.

At the unique entertainment in the Third-market building there will be some excep-tionally attractive features to-night. The Pizzacata Club will render some select music, and there will also be instrumental solos by Graylock, Rees, Cox, and Shu-The Richmond Blues and Company D

The Meeting at Atlee's. Rev. Percey G. Elsom is in the city and is assisting Dr. John Pollard in conducting a meeting at Cold Spring Baptist church at Atlee's station. Mr. Elsom will preach every night this week and Sunday night also. There is great interest manifested in the meeting.

Captain John R. Reed, chairman of the Accomme County Democratic Committee, and Delegate S. S. Wilkins, of Northamp-ton, who has been nominated for re-elec-tion, were at the Capitol yesterday

Personals and Briefs. land V. King, of Church Hill, has left titives and friends in Baltimore. Mr. Douglas Winn, who went to New Orle with the remains of Mr. Levy, has returned

Rev. W. G. Starr, pastor of the Cumberland Street Methodist church, Norfolk. Va., was in the city yesterday and warmly received by his old friends. He is ca route to Europe to spend his vacation. His pulpit will be supplied during his absence by Rev. H. E. Johnson.

was clear and pleasant. Range of the thermometer at the frontoor of the Disparch office vesterday:

To the Public:

For the past five years I have been employed exclusively by the creditors of Virginia, my contract with them forbidding me to undertake any professional business me to undertake any procession.

I desire to state that my arrangements with them have been so modified that I am now permitted to take other business, and I offer my services to the public for the general practice of my profession.

WILLIAM L. ROYALL.

"Do you know, Miss Smith, that young Jones has been sentenced to ninety-nine years' imprisonment?"
"Poor fellow," sighed the young lady, "he will have to wait so long before he

Across the Continent-Nearly &

NEARLY A MILE A MINUTE.

THE FIELD OF SPORT.

LATONIA'S TRACK.

won: Palsade second, Donnel thrid. Time, 1:45%.

Fifth race—purse, for three-year-olds that have not won this year, one mile—It required seven trials to get this field off, and when the tap was given to go Sunflower, with Jockey Lewis, remained standing at the post. There was no advantage worth mentioning to anyone in the start. Fannie S. won; Mary H. second, London Smoke third. Time, 1:43.

GLOUCESTER.

GLOUCESTER, N. J., September 2.—First race—four and a half furiongs—Passmore won; Dry Toast (colt) second, Pardon third. Time, 594. Second race—half a mile—Contessa (colt) Second woodbury

SHEEPSHEAD ENTRIES FOR TO-DAY.

MILLION DOLLARS. KOHAMA AND LIVERPOOL

Goy. Helt and Fred. Douglass to Deliver

BALEIGH, N. C., September 2.—The great flood in the Cape Fear river is talling and an estimate of the total loss along that stream puts it at not less than half a mil-lion dollars, of which one fifth is in Bladen disaster to the farmers in the fertile south-

A special to the State Chronicle to-night says that the formal investigation of the Third-creek disaster, near Statesville, by the Railroad Commission began there to-day. There are present Commissioners Wilson and Mason and the following railroad officials: A. B. Andrews, second vice-president Richmond and Danville: E. V. McBee, tormer superintendent Western North Carolina railroad; the General Superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad; the Chief-Engineer of the Baltimore and Ohio; the Superintendents of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta, and East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads, and others. At noon yesterday Mr. Bradley telegraphed from Brockville to his chief that the Canadian Pacific special was 400 miles away and two hours late. At 2:16 P. M. another telegram was received saying that the train was but 300 miles away. Every second was valuable. At 6:10 the special passed Chalk river, 143 miles from Brockville, at 55 miles an hour. At 8 o'clock last evening the special made her last stop before reaching Brockville. It made the previous 74 miles in 93 minutes, including 12 minutes for stops. The last 13 miles had been covered in 11 minutes. Down she came at a dash the remaining 61 miles to Brockville and arrived at the depot at 19:20 P. M., laving crossed the continent in three days.

Making Fodder—Personal Notes.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
Scotland Neck, N. C., September 2.—
Yesterday there was an additional passenger train put on the North Carolina railroad from Norfolk to Rocky Mount. It leaves Rocky Mount at 6 o'clock in the morning arrives at Norfolk about 10 o'clock A. M. Returning it leaves Norfolk about 20 clock and arrives at Rocky Mount about 6:30 o'clock P. M. It connects with the trains on the Atlantic-Coast Line both north and south. This is a great convenence to persons along this road.

The sunshine is very welcome now and fodder will be saved this week in haste. Much fodder has already dried up on the stalk, so constant have been the rains. Dr. R. M. Johnson went to Richmond on business yesterday.

Messrs, Arrington and Paul Kitchen lett cesterday to take a course at Wake Forest yesterday to take a course at wake Forest College.

Mr. T. J. Edwards and wife and sister. Miss Annie, of Providence, R. I., came yesterday on a visit to their parents, who live near the town.

The death of Dr. Lloyd, of Tarboro', was a source of much regret to the people of this town.

Rev. W. L. Wright went away yesterday, but did not intimate to any, one whether or not he will accept the call to the Baptist church of this place.

Near the Mouth of Pamileo River.
[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
WASHINGTON, N. C., September 1.—On the 28th of August Mr. B. T. Moss, of this town, was accidentally drowned near the mouth of Pamileo river. The body was found the following day, was taken to Washington, and interred with Masonic honors in Oakdale cemetery. Mr. Moss was a native of Virginia, and has many warm friends in Richmond, where he held a membership in the Royal Arch Chapter of Masons, the Commandery, and the Consistory.

onsistory.

NEWBERN'S IMPROVEMENTS.

A Proposed Electric-Car Line—Sewerage and Grading in Progress.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

Newbern, N. C., September 2.—The City Council has under consideration a prososition to construct an electric railway, asystem of waier-works is now under contract. A modified sewerage system is now progress. A street-grader is to be empropers. A street-grader is to be empropers. A street-grader is to be empropers. Council has under consideration a pro-position to construct an electric railway. A system of water-works is now under con-tract. A modified sewerage system is now in progress. A street-grader is to be em-ployed, and the leading thoroughfares are to be macadamized with shell rock. The City Hall has been remodelled and put in much better condition, and all without additional taxation on the property of the sitizens.

tract. A modified sewerage system is now in progress. A street-grader is to be employed, and the leading thorough fares are to be macadamized with shell rock. The City Hall has been remodelled and put in much better condition, and all without additional taxation on the property of the citizens.

DESTRUCTIVE OVERFLOWIN IRELAND It is Charged to Nationalist Obstruction in Parliament.

(By Angle-American cable to the Dispatch.)
Derlin, September 2.—Despatches from Waterford state that the river Barow, in consequence of the recent heavy rainstorms, has overflowed, and that its waters are flooding thousands of acres of land and destroying the crops near the river banks. In addition the waters are sweeping away many houses, barns, and other similar buildings, and generally the flood is causing much damage and consequent distress. The Daily Express declares that the Barow flood is due to Nationalist obstructive tactics in Farliament, which have compelled the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Hon, A. J. Balfour, to withdraw Fifthrace—purse, for three-year-olds that Fifthrace—pu (By Angle-American cable to the Dispatch.)
DUBLIN, September 2.—Despatches from Waterford state that the river Barow, in consequence of the recent heavy ranstorms, has overflowed, and that its waters are flooding thousands of acres of land and destroying the crops near the river banks. In addition the waters are sweeping away many houses, barns, and other similar buildings, and generally the flood is causing much damage and consequent distress. The Daily Express declares that the Barow flood is due to Nationalist obstructive tactics in Parliament, which have compelled the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Hon. A. J. Balfour, to withdraw the bill providing for the deepening and embanking of the river Barow in order to prevent such overflowing of its waters as is at present recorded.

A WARM RECEPTION.

Dead; the Third Wounded. Dead; the Third Wounded.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

Evansville, IND., September 27.—At Velpen, Pike county, last night three men named Posey, Miller, and Fleming went into a small restaurant and attempted to rob the proprietor of everything they could lay hands on. The proprietor shot and instantly killed Posey and Fleming He then ran to the door and shot twice at Miller. One shot took effect in the fleshy part of the thigh, inflicting an ugly wound. The man who did the shooting was at once arrested and placed under guard. The little town is wild with excitement and threats of lynching freely indulged in.

1:49/4.

SHEEPSHEAD ENTRIES FOR TO-DAY.

First race—Futurity course—Take Back, Cee Jay Jay, Kirsch, Julio, 118; St. Carolus, Caterer, Kalula (colt), Hoer, Beau Brummel, Holmdel (colt), Rio Grande, Gift (colt), 111.

Second race—five and one-half furlongs, Sapphire stakes—Ludwig, Lavish, Blitzen, Gulindo, Spendoline, Lew Weir, Hellgate, 118; Rio Grande, Spendonet, King Cadmus, Notus, Canvass, Silver Fox, Alcona (colt), Beau Brummel, Madrid, 111.

Third race—one and three-sixteenth miles, Reaper stakes—Bermuda, 126; La Tosca, 123; Homer, 122; Santa Anna, 114; Bellevue, 112; Wilroy, 102.

Fourth race—one and one-half miles, New York handicap—Firenzi, 130; Demuth, 119; Sir John, 113; Frontenac, 118.

Fifth race—one and three-sixteenth miles, handicap—Sir John, 114; Abi, 110; Longford, 108; Castaway II., 105; Portchester, 100; Virgie, 90.

Sixth rsco—seven-eighths of a mile, on turf—Watterson, St. John, 133; Woodcutter, 127; St. Charles, 124; Adelina, 121; Strideaway, Belwood, Tormentor, Jay F. Dee, Salvini, 120; Ballyhoo, Miss Belle, Belle d'Or, 117; Kempland, 120; Lillian, Glideaway, Sir Rae, 124.

Washington, D. C., September 2.—Following are the base-ball results of to-day: Alleged Assisted Jewish Immigrants.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

New York, September 2.—On writs of habeas corpus nineteen Russian immigrants, detained under the immigration law, were brought before Judge Benedict in Brooklyn to-day. It is claimed that they have been assisted to this country by a Jewish society. The cases were adjourned to Tuesday next, after one of the immigrants had admitted the case against him.

By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

Bethlerem, Pa., September 2.—Richard Nash, of Philadeiphia, engineer on the fast Reading express, while on the lookout this morning was struck by some obstruction near Oreville station, and his head was severed from his body. The body hung out of the cab-window some minutes before the fireman discovered what had occurred.

Well-known Stables and Horses Burned.

By Anglo-American cable to the Dispatch.]

(Lasgow, Scotland, September 2.—The well-known Streele stables at Ayr were destroyed by fire last night. Nine valuable race-horses perished in the flames. He: That's a rather pretty solitaire, isn't Horsford's Acid Phosphate, FOR THE TIRED BRAIN OVER-EXSTRICT. Try it.

A RECORD-BREAKING RIDE.

A RECORD-BREKENIA RID

The elegant Turkish baths at Dr. White's sanitarium, 115 east Franklin street, have been reopened for the fall and winter Parties interested in labor-saving ma-chinery would do well to see a Corn-Har-vester made by Wilham Deering & Co., now cutting and piling corn at Chatsworth farm.

Durable. Reasonable in price. Easy RYLAND & LEE, No. 10 Governor street.

Second-Hand Pianos.
Fischer, Knabe, Gahle, Worcester, and other makes. $75 and up.
RYLAND & LEE, No. 10 Governor street. I would ask my friends and the public to continue their patronage as usual during the control of the trustees, which will last a reasonable time, and in the near future I hope to make some arrangement to continue in business on my own account.

Fischer, Mason & Hamlin, Bradbury,
Briggs, and Cable, infancy and plain wood.
Prices from $200 up. Don't fail to see our stock.

RYLAND & LEE,
No. 10 Governor street.

NEARLY A MILE A MINOTE.

The mail-bags were at once hauled out and taken across the ferry and put on the special New York Central train at Morristown. At 9:45 this train started, arriving here at 9:43 A.M. From Utica to Albany, 95 miles, we made in 90 minutes; from Albany to Hoffman's Ferry, 63% miles, in 61 minutes; from Poughkeepsie to Cold Springs, 21 miles, in 20 minutes; from Croton to Yonkers, 19 miles, in 16 minutes. The City of New York was to sail at 5 o'clock. The Canadian Pacific people in this city and Superintendent Jackson, of the railway-mail service, had seen the Inman people and arranged for the holding of the vessel a few minutes. Quick as lightning Assistant-Superintendent Bradley, who had come down on the special, had the twelve foreign mail-bags dumped on to a truck, and jumping in, had the driver whip his horses into a terrific speed through the streets.

Now FOR THE HOME-STREICH. The Last Nisgara-Palls Excursion of the Season VIA.R. F. A.P. R. R.

The last excursion of the season to Niagara Falls will leave Washington at 8:10
A. M. on September 7th.

Richmond passengers can leave by any train of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad September 6th and can arrange in advance for accommodations on the special train of parior cars and day coaches starting from Washington on the 7th.

Expesition-Grounds.
GEORGE W. MAYO, 19:30 A. M., household and kitchen turniture, &c.
FOX & RIDER, 12:30 P. M., bananas, peaches,

YOUR NOT OUT

our $10 Suits. They land you an un-Second race—half a mile—Contessa (colt) won; Peeress (colt) second, Woodbury third. Time, 53%.
Third race—six and a half furlengs—Flagrant won; Pickett second, A. O. H.
third. Time, 1:30.
Fourth race—three quarters of a mile—
Noonday won; Little Ellen second, Bohemian third. Time, 1:20%.
Fifth race—one mile—Vevay won; Middlestone second, Ruby third. Time,
1:42%. you to low figures, but you will scarcely be prepared to hear that we are offering

We can der